IMMENSE GROWTH

Of Our Commerce as Shown By The United States Statement of Trade.

The War Department has made public a statement of the trade of the United States and all her colonies under military control, and with Cuba as well, for seven months of 1898 ending July 31, making comparison with the year 1898.

The exports of the United States to Cuba for the seven months were $14,116,093 in 1898, against $4,455,937 in 1898. Imports into the United States from Cuba for the same period were $19,976,976 in 1898, against $12,474,770 in 1898. Exports from the United States to Porto Rico for the seven months were $2,292,221 in 1898, against $56,110 in 1898. Imports into the United States from Porto Rico during the same time were $3,379,944 in 1898, against $2,253,800 in 1898. Exports from the United States to the Philippine Islands from January 1 to July 31 were $38,100 in 1898, against $6,736 in 1898. Imports into the United States from the Philippines for the same period were $3,274,134 in 1898, against $2,238,877 in 1898. The trade of the United States with the various islands when stated by months shows the marvelous growth of our commerce.

Goebel and Temperance.

The attitude of the religious bodies at Owensboro, Shelbyville, and possibly some other places in the State, toward the gubernatorial nominee of the Democratic party, Mr. Goebel, does not seem to be well taken. In the first place, the opposition seems to be based entirely upon Mr. Goebel's position on the Robert's temperance bill introduced in the last Legislature. He opposed its adoption. But it is not claimed that his opposition was based upon his disbelief in the principle involved. In fact, allegations of that character could not have been set forth, as it is a well-known fact that Mr. Goebel is a total abstainer, and it is natural to assume that he is a believer in the principles he practices. In view of this fact ministers of the gospel would not accuse him of favoring intemperance or opposing a movement intended to control or abolish the liquor traffic except from proper motives. They have not done so in Kentucky Advocates.

Will He Accept?

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK

WE LOOKED.

WHAT WE SAW.

It was Monday, the 25th inst., at Springfield that Caldwell, of Louisville, spoke in the interest of Brown to about 200, which number dwindled as the speaker warmed with disgusting allusions. Then Brown's side partner, Taylor, was represented by Judge E. C. O'Rear, who is very desirous to be the Republican nominee for Appellate Judge of this district. The Judge made his set speech and is getting more thoroughly acquainted with Republicans, but when the time comes he will find a formidable opponent in James Marcom, of Breathitt. After these fellows had finished, Senator George Fulton, of Bardonia, spoke at the court house to a big crowd of enthusiastic Democrats, and when we say enthusiastic Democrats, we mean those men who will vote for Goebel and the entire ticket. The Democratic ticket here, as elsewhere, is gaining fast.

Then we looked over in Henry county, and there Mr. Pollard, candidate for the legislature, advised us that an actual count disclosed the whereabouts of about 50 bolers. Whereabouts will come out well in Henry county.

What we saw in Knox county was very encouraging. There will be a few fellows there who may vote for Brown, and who may vote for Taylor. There would be many Democrats to vote either way, for Goebel will get Knox, sure.

We saw Willard Mitchell speaking at Bowling Green to an enormous crowd of Democrats eager to hear the grand old doctrine expounded once more. Everything in good shape at Bowling Green. Oh, yes, there were fellows who said the woods were full of bolers, but a count didn't find them, so the Republicans and sound money Democrats started the story that many pretending regular Democrats would bolt, but they won't.

At Hopkinsville every Democrat is at work, and Taylor & Brown men make a small show down.

In Garrard, Hon. James D. Black discoursed. He went right out after those Republicans who were afraid the county would be stolen for the Democrats, and gave them to understand a fair count and an honest count would restore the State to Democratic ranks to the tune of 40,000. Black is getting right along up there where the majority will be. The idea of Taylor for Governor. The colored folk went a better man than Taylor. Do you know who Taylor is? Ask a few questions of the people who know him.

Have you heard this? Old Man Buckner, Simon Bolivar Buckner, of 1896 fame, has bought a paper. It is said that the plant was worth $20,000 and the building in which it was run $5,000, making $25,000, and that old man turned Editor Gaines out after paying him $4,700, leaving him still in debt to the amount of $29,300. That's the way Simon Bolivar Buckner, the tall end of the solid kite, does things. Well, Simon Bolivar has the paper and he is now looking about to find a man to run it for him, and in opposition to the party which so long honored him. This may be the Governor's idea of gratitude, (honored and favored even in his old days, he buys a plant for much less than its value and would, it he could, destroy that power which gave him prominence. There are others.

Good news goes out from Democratic campaign headquarters at Frankfort. Organizations perfecting and Democrats will vote in an almost unbroken rank. The question now is, what shall the majority be? Democrats will not slacken in their work and an old-time 40,000 majority is looked for.

Hallam talked about Goebel's proof as to the charge made at Bowling Green regarding his (Hallam's) brother in a way that gives strength to Goebel's proof, and we might here add, this question is settled, that Hallam was not a Confederate prisoner, and that at the age of 21 or 22 years he should have known better than to have committed the crime for which he received punishment.

Nicholas county will give the Democratic ticket an astonishing majority, and the Carlisle Mercury, with Brother Green Keller still at the helm, though with a conscience seriously affected, will be constrained to cry aloud with wonder as his name travels old Nicholas and he can not account for their coming to rescue of Democracy in these days when the Democratic party is on trial.

An Aged Suicide.

The demand for good farce comedy is said by observant theatrical managers to be greater than ever, the demand for poor farce comedy being less correspondingly. With a view toward satisfying the former demand the offering of "Have you seen Smith?" is made. Its appearance in this city will be an appreciated event.

THEY ARE COMING

Four Hundred Strong to Tour Kentucky For Goebel.

The Cook County Democracy Marching Club, of Chicago, 400 strong, will leave their city on October 10, for Louisville. They will be headed by Captain Carter Harrison, who will deliver an address to the Elks while in Louisville.

They will spend two days there, will spend the night of the 12th in Frankfort, and be at Lexington on the 13th. They come in the interest of Goebel and the Democratic ticket.

John W. Highland.

The following obituary was read at the funeral of the late John W. Highland, which occurred at the "Aurora" cemetery on Thursday last, conducted by Rev. G. A. Frazier, of Villa Grove: John Wesley Highland, son of Dr. D. H. and Susan Highland, was born in Montgomery county, Ky., near Mt. Sterling, April 9, 1836. Died at his home 2211 Bellefontaine street, Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12, 1899. He was married to Clarissa Lee, Aug. 22, 1859. To this happy union were born five children—James W., Mary, Ida May, Jennie and Myrtle. Four of these children and his girl-taken wife are left to mourn his death. Mary having preceded him to the better land.

Relying from his intense suffering, he called his family around him, bade them good-bye, and told them that he was both ready and willing to go and that he was happy. He said he had no fear for the future. His happiest moments were when he had, a few weeks since, said good-bye to his brother and sisters in Kentucky and told them he would meet them in Heaven. One of his sisters, Mrs. Gause, was present at the time of his death. After several days of intense suffering, he folded his hands on his breast and fell into a peaceful sleep.

"He went not like the quarry slave at night scourged to his dungeon, but like the man, who sustained and soothed by an unflinching trust, wrapped the drapery of his couch about him and lay down to peaceful sleep." Sept. 14, 1899.—Tribune (Ill.) Review.

Have you seen Smith? The laughable farce which appears at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday evening has obtained good criticism wherever it has appeared. Mr. Wilkerson positively states that this play has opened the theatrical season of fifty theaters in the South to the capacity of each theater visited. The play has undoubtedly been one of the many successes of the past and present theatrical seasons.

The prices for the engagement here will be $1.75c, 50c, and 35c. Seats now on sale at White's drug store. Secure your seats in advance to avoid the rush is respectfully invited.

BRYAN'S PLAN.

He will be in Kentucky the 15th and remain through the 18th. Wouldn't it be a good idea for him to come this way, that our Brownies may see what a true Democrat is and then turn their eyes on themselves?

Register to-day.

Hal Corbett, a Brown apostle talked to the people here Friday evening, that is, he talked to as many as availed themselves of the rare feast of good (?) things. There were about 125 present at one time, but the room being a little cool and the listeners prizing health more than Brownism, thinned out to half that number.

Corbett was not thoroughly trained as a dispenser of Brown doctrine, for after he had given attention to the Democratic election law and had applied to Mr. Goebel as much calumny as he could find words with which to make himself understood, he made an attack on Taylor, saying in substance this: He was too small to be seen, for Goebel was between Brown and him.

True, Taylor is small, and the Republicans were aware of this when they desired him to get out of the way that they might nominate Yerkes. So small is Taylor that many Republicans, both white and colored, will not support him.

FIVE THOUSAND.

This is the number of people reported to have heard Hon. Wm. Goebel and ex-Senator Blackburn at Winchester Saturday; and it is further estimated that Clark county will give Goebel a majority of 500. Such a statement will not be believed by the over-zealous Brownies or Taylorites, but those who are in a position to know the facts know more about it than a fellow who has been wound up and goes a talking.

It is a fact that many Republicans, both white and black, will not vote for Taylor. White Republicans are against him because they believe him to be in sympathy with the trusts of the day. There are also free silver Republicans and they are of course against Taylor.

The colored people are against him on account of his position on the Separate Coach law; not because they would have it repealed, but because it is not enforced.

The law requires coaches for the colored people the same as for the white people; no difference whatever, and because the administration for the past almost four years has been Republican, nothing has been done to enforce the law, and because Mr. Taylor was in a position to correct the wrong, there will be others to vote against him.

Many of the colored Republicans will not vote for Mr. Taylor will not vote the Democratic ticket, but many will. Then again, the colored people are not at all pleased with the treatment received when Taylor was approached on the Separate Coach question.

As it is in Clark county so it is in many other counties. It is that way here, and white Republicans, by persuasion and force, will fail to hold them in line, and what the Democrats may lose on Brown they will gain from the opposing party. Montgomery will give her usual majority. The Democratic ticket, with a majority of 30,000, will not be surprising.

IT IS ALL OVER BUT THE SHOUTING.

Goebel will win. He has already won. The people of Kentucky are for Democracy.

Every calumniator has done his best to stir up something on Goebel, but the more they search the brighter he appears. No dirt there. He will make an able, a dignified, a bold, aggressive Governor, and those attempting his defeat will share in a wise administration.

COUNTRY FLOODED

The Dispatch was taken to almost every man's door yesterday. Sunday as it was it abounded in untenable charges against Goebel, and wound up with the baby act, "It had been good," "It had been abused." It was the "onlyest" Democratic organ.

The people of our city were liberally supplied with Louisville Dispatches on Sunday. We do not question the veracity of the statement in the editorial columns that The Dispatch is owned by stockholders and controlled by the directors, but would just like to know who or what foots the bills of this "free distributing enterprising" sheet.

Yes, Bryan is coming, and he will say to Democrats what any other sound party man would say, "stand by your nominee and maintain your party organization."

Remarkable Demonstration—New York Crowded to Its Utmost.

The Olympia, with Admiral Dewey aboard, arrived in lower New York bay at dawn on Tuesday morning, two days before it was expected. The Admiral said he couldn't kill any more time on the way, and decided to come into the bay and give Capt. Lamberton a chance to put the Olympia into perfect shape before continuing up the harbor. Numerous officials were made during the day, and vessels of all kinds crowded around the famous warship.

The reception Committee was at first upset by the Admiral's unexpected arrival, but after a conference with the original plan, and the Admiral remained on board until Friday morning, when the formal reception began with Mayor Van Wyck's visit to the Olympia.

The demonstration over him has been remarkable. New York has been crowded and thousands had to eat and sleep on boats.

"It almost saddens me," he said, "to see that my people are doing for me. The pride and gratification are immense and I can not express the appreciation I feel." He was gratified to be again at home.

In referring to political matters he says that he has no ambition to enter politics. He says he is a sailor not a politician, and is willing to live and die in his present position. In regard to the statement of his son that he was a dyed-in-the-wool Republican, he said the young man did not know anything about his father's politics.

In communication on Philippine situation he says: "I thought that this thing in the Philippines would be over long before this, as it should have been. One great trouble out there has been that Gen. Otis has tried to do too much. I told him so. He wants to be General Governor, Judge and everything else, to have hold of all the iron. No man can do this. This is the great trouble. It is enough for a man to do one thing, to be one thing, but when a man tries everything it is easy to imagine the result.

"The fight in the Philippines should be easily ended. The people had been so badly treated for such a length of time by the Spaniards that they are distrustful. This is the great difficulty in dealing with them. Where we have met them and they have been in such contact with us as to learn that we mean to treat them well; where they have seen that we mean what we say, there is no trouble. They stand by us all the time. All of them will learn this in time. They get from under the influence of Aguinaldo or rather those people who are behind Aguinaldo, who, as I said before, is a mere tool."

A Jay From Jaysville.

"A Jay from Jaysville" is coming to town. He will arrive next Wednesday morning, Oct. 4, accompanied by about thirty-five other "Jays," and they will no doubt be a source of much amusement to those who witness the performance at the Opera House. Wednesday night.

"A Jay from Jaysville" is an extremely funny comedy, the leading character in which is a country "Jay," whose quaint way and country manners are ludicrous in the extreme. This part is played by Mr. Nat Bell, a comedian of unusual merit, who has visited us with other plays on several former occasions, and is well known, and liked as well, by our local theater-goers. His large supporting company is said to be a capable one, including a number of entertaining specialists.

During the forenoon a parade will be given by the "Jaysville Band," but it is said by those who have heard it, to be "jay" only in name and action, the music rendered by them being entirely metropolitan. Anyhow, they will most likely make things lively on the street while they are out, and draw a big crowd to the Opera House that night.

We endeavor to give you your money's worth. First class meat and prompt service.

Found Little Rest on Sunday.

Admiral Dewey was able to find but little rest on Sunday, though it had been planned for him to have few or no callers. He was so much exhausted that it became necessary for him to request that none of his callers shake hands with him. He received delegations from Chicago and Philadelphia and thanked them for invitations to visit the two cities, but few individual callers were admitted to his rooms. He left for Washington, where he will be received to-day by the President.

The glare of the headlight revealed a stream of water flowing by the side of the rails. The brakes were applied and the engine halted just a few feet before a washout. The trainmen had saved him and his train. The conductor came forward and congratulated the engineer on his foresight, but took all the credit to himself. "I was thinking," asserted John, "that was his worst. John Staley arrived home. His wife asked why he was delayed. "A washout," replied the engineer. "How did you escape it?" asked his wife. John stated the circumstances, when his wife simply said, "I knew it was dangerous night and could not tell what would happen. You should have known what would best you, so at once I called a horse and knelt beside the locomotive and prayed for you. Rattling and clanking deep and steady, the great wheels of the heavenly Father saved you." This miraculous escape was wrought in answer to his wife's prayer.

A few years afterward the wife died, her husband being still unavowed; but today he is a thoroughly Christian man and is making his power felt for good.

I have known William Goebel for twenty years. In ability, in the peer of any man, and his moral character is above reproach.—Hon. James B. McCreary, Richmond, Ky.

I have known William Goebel for a long time. He drove lottery gambling out of the State. He is the enemy of all gambling and vice, and every man in the State ought to vote for him.—Rev. W. B. Cooper.

His life is a model for young Kentucky.

tucky manhood.—Rev. Thomas Arnold.

Mr. Arnold has known SENATOR GOEBEL FROM BOYHOOD.

Goebel has enemies, some say he is a bad man but can make no specific charges except that man at Pinchum who is against him because he misreads his wife. (That fellow didn't know Goebel never had been married.)

Mr. Goebel will be Governor, concerning this there is hardly a question

now. The people are talking and they will vote. The oppressors will vote against Goebel, because he is a man of determination and power and is the friend of the poor. It won't stop here, the colored people who for these 35 years have been in political slavery, yearning for their freedom, want to be on the side of the poor man's friend and not a few of them will vote for Mr. Goebel.

Up To Date.
W. W. Wilson's meat market, from early morning until the clock struck twelve Sunday night was one of the busiest parts of the city. Its attraction was such that the editor, who by chance passed that way was so impressed that he felt that more of such enterprise and industry should have more than a passing notice. For some time we had noticed a marvelous improvement in the trade about their quarters, had observed that another large refrigerator had been added lately, that more men had been employed and that a spirit of thrift pervaded the department but we did not know what was coming for Saturday. The display would have done credit to any other large city. The cuts of beef were beautiful and we might add delicious. Then there was the nice cuts of lamb and pork. It was also a fish market with salmon, white perch, large slice channel cat, bass, etc., and many other varieties. Also vegetables and fruits in season. The service was excellent and every one in the evening men tired from the hard days work were just as glad to see a customer as they were early in the morning.
